

Learn & Network

at the leading conference
on American shale energy, industries and jobs.

Natural gas energy focused students and faculty are invited to submit applications for the SHALE INSIGHT™ 2019 University Research Showcase at Pittsburgh's David L. Lawrence Convention Center, Oct. 22-24. Selected participants will have an opportunity to showcase groundbreaking university research, network with energy professionals and be presented certificates of achievement on the Conference main stage prior to the closing keynote.

“ The conference provided a great opportunity for students to interact and build connections with other graduate students, faculties and people from the energy industry.”

-Kuan-Ming Huang (WVU Natural Resources Economics)

If selected for the showcase, participants will receive a FREE conference pass

If you do not wish to showcase, but still want to attend the conference...

student rate:

$95

regular attendee rate:

~~$895~~

faculty rate:

$375

submissions due: 9.25.19

shaleinsight.com/universityshowcase